Obtaining your personal information

Information may have been provided to us about you, as next of kin to the deceased, by the Police, Coroner, Hospital, Care home or by persons known to the deceased. Your details may have been revealed as a result of our own searches.

The information we are processing includes your name and contact details.

Use of your personal information

We are using your personal information for the purpose of arranging a national assistance funeral and on the basis of public task and our legal obligation under the Public Health (control of disease) Act 1984.

Who will receive or see my personal information?

Your personal information will be available to be seen by those within the Environmental Health Team for the purpose of investigating your complaint and within support services (such as the Legal, HR, Insurance and wider Finance Teams and any third party payment handler) where necessary to carry out the purpose.

With your consent, we may share your name and contact details with the council's nominated funeral director.

We may also share information with our corporate safety officer when our staff safety is viewed as being at risk. Information may also be shared with partner agencies during safeguarding investigations and for fraud identification and prevention.

Your personal information will be stored securely and will not be accessible to anyone else, including other services within the Council, unless detailed above.

Retention

All your personal information will be held by us only for as long as is necessary and then in accordance with any legal requirements imposed upon us and the Council's retention schedule. For more information please go to our website to view our Retention schedule

Transferring personal information outside of the EU

Your personal information will not be transferred outside the EU or to any international organisations by the Council. It should be noted that the Council has no control over those accessing its online public registers nor what someone does with any information they obtain from them.

Your rights

Whatever our use of your personal information you have the right of access to that personal information (this means confirmation that we are using your personal information, access to it as well as other detail) and the right to seek rectification if the information is inaccurate.

Where we are processing your personal data on the basis of public task and legal obligation you may have the right to object and the right to restrict processing.

Where we are processing your personal data on the basis of your consent, you have the right to withdraw consent.

Also, if you object to our use of your personal information and there is no overriding legitimate interest for us to continue using it or we have used your personal information unlawfully or it is no longer necessary for us to have the personal information, the right to erasure is also available to you.

Details on each of these rights and to how you exercise can be found on our website in the Your Rights pages.

Complaints

If you are dissatisfied with the way the Council has used your personal information then you may wish in the first instance to make a complaint to the Data Protection Officer. This can be done by;

Writing to: Data Protection Officer, Information and Complaints, East Devon District Council, Blackdown House, Border Road, Heathpark Industrial Estate, Honiton, EX14 1EJ.

You can also email: dataprotection@eastdevon.gov.uk or call 01395 517417.

Alternatively, or if you remain dissatisfied following your complaint to the Data Protection Officer, you may lodge a complaint with The Information Commissioner. The Information Commissioner is the UK's independent body set up to uphold information rights. The ICO can help and advise you on all matters relating to data protection.
